

Search for New Physics in the Cosmic Rays with the Alpha Magnetic Spectrometer

Wednesday

October 15

4 P.M.

Rm 118 NSH

Prof. Paolo Zuccon
MIT

The new AMS results regarding the positron and the electron fluxes in the cosmic rays will be presented. Different possible interpretations of these will be discussed. Finally the potential of large statistic measurements of anti-proton flux by AMS will be commented.

Refreshments @
3:30 in 202 NSH