Nuclear Physics in Industry?!

Dr. Edwin Kolbe
University of Basel, Switzerland

Since leaving "Nuclear Astrophysics" in 2001, I have been working for three different companies in Switzerland having "more or less" fun. In my talk I will describe the various professional activities I performed during that time and how they are related to (my former) work in science. It turns out that the skills of Nuclear Physicists are strongly needed in industry.
