

Shaken not stirred: White dwarf cocktails

Professor. Frank Timmes
School of Earth and Space Exploration
Arizona State University

White dwarfs play a premier role in contemporary astronomy and astrophysics. We will briefly discuss some current state of affairs, make an evolutionary model of white dwarf, and then shake the white dwarf to explore a piece of new science that aims to reveal insights into their otherwise-hidden internal structure.

Wednesday

April 10

4:00 P.M.

Rm 118 NSH

PHYSICS